

FOREWORD

These Design and Construction Procedures establish consistent design and construction practices and are the minimum acceptable standards for the design and construction of VA facilities.

These design and construction procedures are mandatory where specific statutes and/or regulatory references are included in the Topic text. For other Topics, the procedures and included minimum acceptable standards shall be utilized to the maximum extent practicable, commensurate with cost considerations.

Lloyd H. Siegel
Associate Executive Director
Office of Facilities Planning

